An election or an assault?

Read the independent reviews on the mud throwing against
State Senator
Bob Beers.

You decide.

At a time when Nevadans have real pressing economic problems...when families, businesses, and state government are all dealing with budget problems...we need real information to make real choices this year.

But all we get is mud thrown on Senator Bob Beers...

...the state Democratic Party is spending unprecedented amounts of money "attempting to elevate two manifestly weak candidates with highly questionable tactics."

(Source: Las Vegas Sun, September 17, 2008)

The Nevada Democratic Party is showing "moral bankruptcy in its effort to oust state Sens. Joe Heck and Bob Beers"

(Source: Las Vegas Sun, September 17, 2008)

The Democratic Party has undertaken an all-out assault on two incumbent Republican state senators, deluging voters in their districts with nasty mailers that distort their records. The intense attacks against state Sens. Bob Beers

(Source: Las Vegas Review Journal, September 21, 2008)

..this Democratic direct-mail campaign is embarrassing and pathetic. Though it does, at least, distract attention from the fact that their candidates apparently can't walk and chew gum at the same time

(Source: Las Vegas Review Journal, Editorial, September 21, 2008)

The latest dirty trick that caught my attention is a savage and unwarranted assault on state Sen. Bob Beers, R-Las Vegas.

(Las Vegas Review Journal, September 7, 2008)

...as a journalist taught in the old school, I'm even less enamored of misleading and blatantly false campaign charges.

As a longtime member of the Nevada Democratic Party, I'm ashamed and angered that these dirty tricks are being deployed against Beers and, presumably, other Republicans.

..."carting out sleazy billboards to mislead voters is an insult to the party's underlying principles."
