That is why after many heartfelt talks with my family,
I decided to resign my position as Chairman of the Nevada

The Lowden family, we're all united in this -- my husband Paul, our kids and our granddaughter -- we're excited and ready for the race ahead.

Because if there was ever a time for Nevadans to step up and fight for our future, the time is now.

Like many people, I moved to Nevada to pursue my version of the American dream.

And I've been able to live that dream -- I've raised a great family here, spent ten years as an award-winning reporter and anchor for Nevadans on KLAS-TV, run a successful business with my husband that creates jobs in Nevada and helped strengthen some worthy charities.

In 1992, I grew concerned about America drifting left, turning away from the success of President Ronald Reagan.

And so I took action and ran for the State Senate against an entrenched Democrat Majority Leader in a district that had three Democrats for every Republican. No one thought I had a chance, but I knocked on more doors and worked for more votes than my opponent, and I won a major upset.

So I know how to win the kind of tough race this will be.

I also know Harry Reid has won in the past by using intimidation and fear tactics.

That stuff won't work with me -- I promise you that.

I've never backed down from a bully in my life. Not ever!

During my time in the State Senate, I was chairman of the Taxation Committee.

And even though it led to a lot of whining from a lot of special interests looking for handouts, I declared it the "No Taxation Committee" and shut it down -- sending a lot of lobbyists out the door still hungry.

law, I was the deciding vote against them and in favor of freedom for Nevada's workers.

Police gave me an escort out of the legislative building to protect me against an unruly mob of union thugs.

Ever since then, I've been like a lot of Nevadans out there -- I know the Second Amendment must be protected so that we can protect ourselves.

And when it comes to the Second Amendment (and taxes, and energy, and unborn children and so many other issues) Harry Reid talks like a moderate, and then goes to Washington to fall in line with every liberal special interest group in town.

That's why he is in trouble once again in this campaign.

I'm sure you know all about Harry Reid's lowlights:

- X To a group of Nevada schoolchildren, he called President Bush a "loser" and before that a "liar."
- X In 2007, he declared the Iraq war was "lost" while our brave troops were busy defeating terrorists.
- X This year, Reid bullied the director of the Las Vegas Review-Journal saying "he hopes they go out of business." (That's not really the kind of pro-job growth agenda Nevadans are looking for!)
- X More recently, he said that Senator Ted Kennedy's death was going to "help" him pass Obama's government-run health care scheme.

Considering all of this, it's shocking to think that the Washington, DC Democrats have made Harry their leader . . .

. . . trusting him to lead the way to pass tax hikes, the wasteful "stimulus" bill, the trillion dollar deficits, the "Obamacare" federal health takeover, the national energy tax and everything else on their radical leftist agenda.

In the past, Harry Reid has been able to win close races by bragging about how he "delivers for Nevada."

But voters here are now asking, if Harry Reid is so powerful and great for Nevada, why do we have 13.2% unemployment -- third highest in the country? Why do we lead the nation in housing foreclosures? And why do Nevadans only get back 65 cents for every dollar we send to Washington in taxes?

He knows he's in trouble. That is why, as jobs are lost and our neighborhoods suffer, Harry Reid is benefitting from lavish fundraisers headlined by President Obama.

The fact is, Harry Reid forgot where he came from.

He's been busy representing Senate Democrats, NOT Nevada families.

It's time for him to go. And I'm going to defeat him with your support.

Charles, I am relying on YOU and other patriots in Nevada who have had enough of Harry Reid -- this is our chance to finally end his career and take back control.

Please sign the enclosed Pledge of Support and return it with the most generous gift you can afford at this time -- $2,400, $1,000, $500, $250, $100, $50, $25 or whatever you can send to help me kick off my campaign.

Thank you in advance for your support -- I look forward to seeing you out on the campaign trail!

Sincerely,

Sue Lowden

P.S. Charles, I am running for U.S. Senate in Nevada to remove Harry Reid from office and stop his radical agenda of higher taxes, government-run health care and runaway federal deficits. But to defeat an entrenched, out-of-touch Senator like Harry Reid who has spent 23 years cozying up to the Washington special interest crowd at the expense of hardworking Nevada families, it will take a total team effort.

Will you join me? Please sign the enclosed Pledge of Support to let me know I can count on you. And please make a contribution of $2,400, $1,000, $500, $250, $100, $50 or even

$25 to Sue Lowden for U.S. Senate. Thank you -- SL
