

GOVERNOR GIBBONS POINTS TO ANOTHER REASON SANDOVAL CANNOT BE TRUSTED

For Immediate Release

CARSON CITY -- Brian Sandoval likes to talk about being a “reason to believe again”. But Jim Gibbons has found ANOTHER example of Sandoval having a “reason to deceive again”.

Sandoval would enforce a law to require Jews to wear yellow stars “if (the Legislature) told him to do it.”

When Sandoval was running for Attorney General, a reporter asked him, “...if the Legislature passed a law requiring all Jews to wear yellow stars of David on the outside of their clothing, you’d enforce it?” Did Sandoval stand up for human rights? Did he defend the Constitution? NO. His answer? “It’s my job to enforce it.” This is the same excuse, “just following orders,” that the Nazi’s gave when they were asked, by American soldiers, why did they participate in the Nazi plan against the Jews in World War II.

That’s right. Brian Sandoval would not stand up for what is right and he would not stand up to the Legislature. Sandoval would not defend the basic human rights of Nevada citizens. Sandoval would promote ethnic bias and anti-Semitism, justifying this by saying that he would just be doing his “job to enforce it.”

“That is a disgraceful example of ‘going along to get along’ on an issue that epitomizes the way Brian Sandoval thinks and believes, this way of thinking is a sellout and a pitiful excuse for all freedom-loving people who expect their leaders to be strong and just,”

Gibbons said. “I will stand up for what’s right, no matter what the odds. I would never surrender.”

Gibbons has exactly the opposite of Sandoval’s cowardly “appeasement” attitude. Gibbons fights for Nevadans. In uniform, Gibbons fought for the U.S. Constitution. In the Governor’s Office, Gibbons is still fighting for the Constitution.

Gibbons bypassed Democrat Catherine Masto to file suit against the federal government and the Reid/Pelosi/Obama Nationalized Health Care law. That law is already costing Nevada taxpayers tens of thousands of dollars, and will cost Nevadans millions, even billions, in the future.

Yes, Gibbons will not surrender when Nevadan’s rights are at stake. But to “appease” those around him, Brian “Spend-it-all” Sandoval would even make Jewish citizens in Nevada wear yellow stars “if the Legislature said so”.

Brian “Spend-it-all” Sandoval’s political philosophy is based on “appeasement,” a socialist European policy of “just going along to get along,” similar to our current Obama/Reid/Pelosi policy makers in D.C.

Gibbons stands for what is right and what is best for the Nevada people. Gibbons has and will continue to stand up to the Legislature, to Congress, to Harry Reid, to Nancy Pelosi, and – yes – even to President Obama. Jim Gibbons stands up for Nevada.
